Jeffrey Brooks practices primarily in the areas of civil litigation and commercial; real estate development.

Mr. Brooks' litigation practice spans a wide range of litigation matters, including traditional commercial disputes such as breach of contract, employment agreements and construction/engineering contractual and work scope disputes.

Mr. Brooks' practice also includes commercial real estate sales/acquisition and commercial real estate development and land use issues as well as civil litigation relating to those subjects.

Mr. Brooks has tried cases in state, federal, and bankruptcy courts of various jurisdictions, as well as before commercial arbitration and administrative tribunals. As a litigator, Mr. Brooks recognizes that a client's interests are best served by prompt and timely response to the issues confronting a client and the expeditious and cost-effective resolution of disputes. Toward that end, he seeks to identify and resolve potential problems before formal proceedings are initiated.

Mr. Brooks is admitted to the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and the U.S. Supreme Court.
