

Federal, State & Local Tax Representation

The prospect of owing either corporate or individual taxes, along with penalties and interest can be daunting. Minto Law Group has successfully represented taxpayers in disputes with the Internal Revenue Service Appellate Division in over one hundred cases. We have represented taxpayers under investigation by the IRS, including investigations for criminal violations, both international and domestic. We represent taxpayers in the United States District Court, the United States Tax Court, various state and local courts and the Department of Labor. As a result, we know what tax strategies are standing up to IRS scrutiny. There are many other strategies that Minto Law Group uses depending upon the facts and circumstances presented by our clients. Please be advised that our strategies are tried and true and have been accepted by the Internal Revenue Service or are expressly permitted by the Internal Revenue Code.
